

An Environment of development becomes increasingly popular with docker. We already know a lot projects of container like docker, vagrant and SaaS or PaaS Services like Google AppEngine, AWS cloud, and Heroku.

It will be shown a Sample Project using Django and Docker, and environment of Development for this. We will explain the Architecture of sample project. At the end, it will be proved to be a fast and easy solution to set up our development environment.