

MySQL Fabric is the latest GPL product that offered by MySQL develop team, it is a extensible framework developed by Python that manages farms of MySQL Servers. Two primary features have been implemented - High Availability (HA) and scaling out using data sharding. MySQL Fabric also provides server provisioning using cloud frameworks such as OpenStack. By join this session the audience would knows how to create highly scalable, highly available and resilient database service with MySQL Fabric